SUMMARY

I am a 23 year old computer science engineer graduated from The German University In Cairo. My main trait that I can bet on is my eagerness to contribute to team success through hard work, attention to detail and excellent organizational skills. I am always motivated to learn, grow and excel to reach my full potential.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Intern

IBM

📅 Aug 2018 - Aug 2018

Cairo , Egypt

In this internship I was required to develop an application for food ordering using MEAN stack. The most enriching aspect about this experience is seeing how multinational companies operate and how is the work atmosphere is in such companies.

Intern

Three2One

📅 Jun 2018 - Aug 2018

Cairo , Egypt

In this internship I was within a team that is responsible for developing an application for the company to manage the daily needs of employees such as applying leave requests, salary updates, important announcements etc. In this experience we used Java as a backend for our application and Ionic as a front end and MySQL as a database.
